About VINCI Autoroutes

VINCI Autoroutes finances, designs, builds, and operates motorways in France. Its teams support more than 2.5 million customers every day - and up to 4 million in the summer - on its 4,443 km network, under concessions run by ASF, Cofiroute, Escota, Arcour, and Arcos. Its 5,500 employees have the primary mission - whatever the circumstances - of ensuring the viability and maintenance of the network, the safety of its users, and the continuity of the public motorway. As a partner of the State and local authorities, VINCI Autoroutes serves 10 regions, 45 departments, 14 metropolitan areas, more than a hundred cities with over 10,000 inhabitants, and thousands of rural municipalities located near its concession network in France. In response to the climate emergency, VINCI Autoroutes is committed to transforming the motorway, essential for the service and economic and social activity of the territories, into a low-carbon infrastructure, in line with the national strategy for the decarbonization of mobility.

About VINCI Airports
