PRESS RELEASE

Richard Francioli appointed chairman of VINCI Construction Filiales Internationales

Richard Francioli has been appointed chairman of VINCI Construction Filiales Internationales.

Mr Francioli, 45, has spent his entire working life at Sogea Construction (VINCI), where he has held the posts of agency manager, director of the Nord-Pas de Calais region, and director of France (excluding Paris).

VINCI Construction Filiales Internationales groups together subsidiaries operating in Africa (where it has had a presence in 26 countries for over 70 years), French overseas departments and territories (French West Indies, French Guyana and islands in the Indian Ocean and Pacific Ocean) and Central Europe (Poland, Hungary, Czech Republic and Serbia). VINCI Construction Filiales Internationales carries out the whole range of construction activities in those countries through subsidiaries such as Sogea-Satom (Africa), Warbud (Poland), Hídépítő (Hungary), FCC (Czech Republic) and SMP (Czech Republic).

VINCI Construction Filiales Internationales is a division of VINCI Construction alongside Sogea Construction, GTM Construction, and the UK, German and Belgian subsidiaries of VINCI Construction Grands Projets and Freyssinet.

Prior to Mr Francioli's appointment, the chairmanship of VINCI Construction Filiales Internationales was held directly by Philippe Ratynski, chairman and CEO of VINCI Construction.
